

You are invited to become part of our community focused on Nursing Home Quality!

HealthcareCommunities.org (HC) is a web-based knowledge management system that provides multiple means for the healthcare quality improvement community to share knowledge and contribute to each other's quality improvement work.

Benefits to being a part of this community are:

- Access to an intuitive web portal with hundreds of documents
- Communicate with peers in your field
- Share knowledge with others
- Collaborate on best practices

By joining the Nursing Home Quality Community, you will have the opportunity to:

- Join a listserv
- Participate in forums to exchange ideas and views on a particular issue
- Access free resources and tools

Join today, it is free and you can participate as much or as little as fits your interests and your schedule. To join, click here.

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and the National Nursing Home Quality Care Collaborative team worked closely with the Advancing Excellence in America's Nursing Homes Campaign, Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, CMS' Quality Assurance and Performance Improvement (QAPI), and The Partnership to Improve Dementia Care in Nursing Homes to align efforts and support the development of the Nursing Home Quality Community on the Healthcare Communities Portal.
